You should hire me because I have a solid understanding of frontend technologies like HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React, and I'm constantly improving my skills through projects and problem-solving. I may be a fresher, but I bring a strong learning attitude, clean coding habits, and creativity in UI design. I'm passionate about building responsive, user-friendly interfaces and I'm confident that with my enthusiasm and commitment, I can quickly adapt to your tech stack and contribute real value to your team.